

FINANCE AND ANALYSIS · HELSINKI

Client Analyst, Corporate Banking & Real Estate

Are you looking for an analytical position within finance? Are you also proactive, open-minded and want to collaborate cross-border with equally minded people? Then this could be a position for you!

In Swedbank you have the opportunity to:

- Work in close cooperation with the Client Executive and act as her/his deputy in managing and developing the overall client portfolio,
- Cover and analyse both existing clients as well as prospects. This includes continuous monitoring of the companies and related sectors, including risk class proposals, as part of the credit analysis,
- Liaise the contact with other relevant units within the bank, such as product specialists and support functions, and thereby ensure the smooth running of the clients' daily business. Increase your understanding on ESG and sustainability aspects in lending operations. Work with your internal network that will consist of product units as well as foreign Swedbank branches and offices.

What is needed in this role:

- A Master's Degree in Business/Engineering or equivalent academic degree
- Financial analysis skills and profound understanding of credit risk
- The ability to present and explain complex transactions, both orally as well as in writing
- Minimum two years of relevant experience from banking/finance
- Administrative and project leader skills
- Good presentation and social skills
- Relevant IT skills
- Fluency in Finnish and English, while the latter is the official corporate language. As we are a Swedish bank, knowledge of Swedish is an asset.
- A flexible attitude, proactivity, the ability to work under pressure and strong commitment and drive

"Join our team and..."

You will have an interesting and versatile position with development opportunities providing a good insight of the Corporate Banking business in an international and inclusive working environment. You will be supported by colleagues within Corporate Coverage as well as several other stakeholders across the bank in the Nordic countries. We are a growing organization of more than 50 professionals in Helsinki with new premises in the city centre." Anne Laukia, your future managers
